Audio Script

You must consider that if you are visiting a country, you have to think about which accommodations you are going to stay at. For many people that need to travel on a budget, it might be a good idea to stay at a pension or hostel because of the fact that they are usually very cheap. This could be a good way to save money in order to be able to travel where you want to go. However, if it is important to you that your accommodations have certain luxuries, you'll surely want to find something a bit most costly, like a hotel. There are different levels of hotels, depending how much money you want to spend. To know this, you can see how many stars the hotel has. To stay in a luxurious hotel, you have to see if it has four or five stars. Some people that have rented apartments and houses say that they'd rather this because they can cook and do whatever they want, when they want to. Also, many family and friends were staying at campgrounds since they enjoy seeing nature. Some people sleep in a tent, others in a caravan or motorhome. Some people who want to get away from the city noises will stay in a rural home, to relax. Others may go to a bed and breakfast, where they can relax but have certain luxuries like having a comfortable room and breakfast in the morning. Really, it all depends what kind of holiday and travel you would like to have.
